Adhip Rajib Choudhury

I'm Adhip Rajib Choudhury, a tech enthusiast passionate about AI, ML, Robotics, and Web Development—creating smart, creative, and impactful digital solutions.

Mumbai, Maharashtra, India

Summary

Greetings!

I'm a tech aficionado on a thrilling journey through the ever-evolving realms of technology. My interests span across Web Development, Artificial Intelligence, Machine Learning, Python Programming, and Cybersecurity.

As a Certified Full-Stack Developer with achievements from WhiteHat Junior and Udemy, I constantly aim to fuse creativity with technical precision and innovation.

Cybersecurity & Ethical Hacking:

Recently, I've developed a keen focus on cybersecurity, exploring frameworks like the NIST Cybersecurity Model, penetration testing, and digital defense strategies to safeguard global data infrastructures.

Agentic AI Exploration:

I'm fascinated by Agentic AI, a new advancement in artificial intelligence that integrates autonomous agents capable of reasoning, goal-setting, and adaptive decision-making. Unlike conventional AI, Agentic models can plan, execute, and iterate intelligently, driving innovation in automation, security, and enterprise systems.

☁️ # Emerging Tech Focus:

My curiosity extends to Cloud Computing, IoT, and even Microchip Manufacturing—the foundation behind today's most powerful devices. I'm passionate about how these systems interconnect to shape next-generation digital ecosystems.

Collaboration & Innovation:

Collaboration fuels my creativity. I believe that exchanging ideas and building projects alongside other innovators empowers collective growth and redefines what's possible in the tech universe. Together, we can inspire smarter, safer, and more connected futures.
